"I purchased our first New Apeel microdermabrasion unit in 2002 for the Spa at The Grand Hotel. Eight and one half years later, all five of our spas have this same equipment and we love it!

The machine we have at The Grand is the original one we purchased in 2002 and we have never had even the tiniest problem with it. It provides, by far, the most cost effective and immediate results-producing service we have – in fact it costs less than $1.00 for a full face and décolleté microdermabrasion.

There is almost no maintenance required – simply change the little filter after each guest, sanitize the wands and once a year change the Hepa filter – voila! The estheticians love the service for the ease of use and for the amazing and instant results, and the guests love the service as they see and feel an immediate difference in their skin. The machine even has interchangeable body wands which are great for the back, thighs or arms – perfect for special occasions or swimsuit season!

Have fun with this – your clients will thank you!"
